

I am writing to you on behalf of Governor Ronnie Musgrove. Thank you for your e-mail concerning the environment and Mississippi's Department of Environmental Quality. Our challenge is to maintain a balance that keeps Mississippi a clean, healthy place to raise a family and a good place to do business. We must work together with communities, local governments, farmers, businesses and neighboring states to find and implement innovative solutions. Governor Musgrove is confident that Charles Chisolm will be quite effective in his role as Executive Director of the Department of Environmental Quality. Thank you again for sharing your concerns with Governor Musgrove.
